The Society will organise a bi-annual literary festival and aims to:

- To establish the town as a centre of literary excellence by attracting high quality speakers, nurturing and showcasing local writing talent and providing new opportunities for local people to experience literature in direct, accessible and dynamic ways.
- To promote, encourage and develop participation in all aspects of the literary arts in Havant.
- To promote literacy and a life-long love of reading across all sections of the community, including the very youngest.
- To create a sense of occasion and identification with the Festival, raising the profile of Havant nationally and stimulating economic opportunities for local businesses.

Membership is open to all those who support the aims of the Society.
